Market Data

No market information is available for week 9.

New Biosecurity and Export Manager appointed

We are pleased to report that Juan Rosales has been appointed as Biosecurity and Export Manager for Summerfruit NZ. This is a new role within the organisation and reflects the importance it places on biosecurity and international markets to the summerfruit sector. Read more.

Introduction of Samurai wasps supported by NZIER

A New Zealand Institute of Economic Research report has made a case for introducing Samurai wasps to deal with brown marmorated stink bugs (BMSB), should they become established in New Zealand. Read more.

The frightening reality of BMSB

If you haven't given much thought to what an invasion of BMSB might mean to New Zealand, Kathryn Schulz's article in the New Yorker magazine will leave you in no doubt. Read more.
